

Our Code of Conduct and Ethics

"A culture of how we work together, communicate openly and respect everyone around us.

EXECUTIVE HEALTHCARE SOLUTIONS

Letter from Aly S. Maherali

Chief Executive Officer & Vice Chairman

'At the heart of our success is integrity, our code of conduct isn't just a policy; it's a shared commitment to doing what's right, treating each other with respect, and holding ourselves to the highest standards in every decision we make. Being ethical is core to who we are, it has always been about making decisions that are right for all our stakeholders and our mission'

Dear Colleagues,

The foundation of our success at Executive Healthcare Solutions rests upon our unwavering commitment to responsible business practices. This commitment shapes not only our strategic vision but also fuels our passion for delivering exceptional service to every individual we encounter. The trust we've cultivated with our clients, partners, and communities represents one of our most valuable assets—one that demands our constant vigilance and protection.

Regardless of geographic location or professional capacity, we must embody the highest standards of ethical conduct in every interaction. Integrity is the essential thread woven throughout our daily operations and decision-making processes. Our reputation depends on each of us consistently demonstrating these values in action, not just in words.

The Code of Conduct & Ethics you're receiving today, outlines the fundamental principles that guide our professional behavior and ethical decisions. I encourage you to thoroughly review this document, as it represents the shared standards that define our organizational culture. By embracing these principles, you contribute to an environment where ethical conduct is both expected and celebrated.

Thank you for your dedication to upholding these standards as we continue to grow and work better together.

Best Wishes,

Aly S. Maherali
Chief Executive Officer & Vice Chairman

1. INTRODUCTION

This code outlines the company's expectations regarding employees' behavior, wherever we are in the world, while conducting business for Executive Healthcare Solutions. Please take some time to familiarize yourself with the code, so that you can understand the way we work together at Executive Healthcare Solutions.

As a company, we are dedicated to upholding the highest standards of acting responsibly in all our business operations.

Doing business responsibly and ethically is at the heart of everything that we do, to uphold an outstanding reputation. It is essential that we operate in a way that our business partners, communities we are involved in, and our employees trust us.

The information found in this code cannot encompass every scenario that we may go through in our day-to-day operations but acts as a guideline to the conduct expected of us locally or while on international business. All other company policies and procedures that apply to you must be looked at in addition to this code.

2. POLICY STATEMENT

2.1 It is the company's policy to maintain the highest standards of integrity by conducting business in an honest and moral manner. Each Director and Employee shall conduct themselves with the highest integrity and conform to the highest ethical standards of business conduct in all their interactions with the Company's customers, counterparties, partners, suppliers, competitors, employees, investors, and anybody else they encounter while performing their duties.

2.2 The Code of Conduct and Ethics Policy supports all of us in making the right decisions and sets out principles we must all work by.

2.3 In our interactions with the company's clients and with the company itself, the directors and staff are expected to conduct themselves with integrity and responsibility and to refrain from any influences that might skew their judgment. All employees and directors are required to disclose and refrain from any interests or activities involving other entities or individuals that could create a conflict of interest between the Company and other entities or individuals.

2.4 We encourage freedom of expression and open communication. Although this policy does not aim to intrude on the private lives of its directors or employees, it does require them to abide by this code of conduct and to recognize potential conflicts of interest and take steps to avoid them. Should these circumstances be unavoidable, they ought to be reported immediately to one's immediate line Supervisor/Manager or any other Senior Manager. The director or employee should then withdraw themselves from any situations that could be construed as compromised, whether it involves advising the other person or entity or approving or voting on extensions of credit.

3. OBJECTIVES

The general objective of this policy is to define standard ethical behavior and require prompt disclosure of any potential conflict of interest and to prevent such a situation from arising.

3.1 The specific goals of this policy are to:

- 3.1.1 Advance honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest.
- 3.1.2 Ensure that data reporting and data submission is accurate and truthful
- 3.1.3 That as Executive Healthcare Solutions we refrain from bribery and financial crimes
- 3.1.4 Encourage compliance with applicable governmental laws and regulations.
- 3.1.5 Promote the protection of Company assets, including corporate opportunities and confidential information.
- 3.1.6 Foster fair dealing practices.
- 3.1.7 Discourage wrongdoing.
- 3.1.8 Ensure accountability for adherence to this Code.

3.1.9 Establish a monetary limit on nominal gifts and gratuities.
3.1.10 Require reporting of conflicts to senior Supervisors and written disclosures of business interests.
3.1.11 Embrace Diversity & Inclusion in the workplace and with our clientele base
3.1.12 Embrace a uniform way of communicating externally
3.1.13 Establish a culture of respect in the workplace, among others.

4. SCOPE OF THE POLICY

This policy applies to all directors and employees of the Company and is to be read in conjunction with related Human Resources Operational guidelines issued from time to time.

5. EXPECTED CONDUCT WITHIN EXECUTIVE HEALTHCARE SOLUTIONS

5.1 TRUST & RESPECT IN THE WORKPLACE

Trust is the value that binds all relationships within the Company. The company understands that building and preserving trust is critical to its survival, prosperity, and vitality. It also understands that long-term goals can only be realized when trust permeates the company's relationships with its clients, members, and other stakeholders, including investors, regulators, governmental bodies, and the public.

Executive Healthcare Solutions does not tolerate unfair treatment or harassment of any colleague by any person working for Executive Healthcare Solutions, for any reason.

Harassment includes sexual harassment and derogatory remarks, slurs, threats or jokes relating to race, color, ethnicity or national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, religion, marital status, disability, dressing preference or remarks of current and future performance not part of the performance management cycle.

All leaders are primarily responsible for creating an atmosphere free of discrimination and harassment. Employees too have a role to play, ensuring the rights of their co-workers are upheld and we treat each other with courtesy and professionalism.

5.2 INTEGRITY

Personal integrity and honesty are the founding values of the Company which strives to maintain an unimpeachable standard of integrity in all its business relationships, both inside and outside the Company itself. The Company applies high ethical standards to all its activities and decisions.

Directors and Employees shall discharge their responsibilities with the highest standards of ethics, professional honesty and integrity in all dealings with the public, clients, investors and colleagues. Directors and Employees are also required to comply with the regulations of Executive Healthcare Solutions, defined in the Governance Documents, in letter and spirit, to protect the interest of the Company and appropriately escalate and report if they become aware of any irregularity that might affect the interest of Executive Healthcare Solutions.

When deciding on the appropriate course of action, Directors and employees not only have to comply with laws, rules and regulations, but also must evaluate whether a decision or activity is consistent with Executive Healthcare Solutions values.

5.3 FAIR DEALINGS

Directors and Employees shall deal fairly, honestly and in good faith with clients, business partners, the public, the competitors, third-party service providers and amongst each other. Directors and Employees shall not take unfair advantage of anyone through misrepresentation or omission of facts, manipulation or concealment, or abuse of privileged information.

Externally, we should compete vigorously on price and service, but we must not disclose, discuss, agree or manipulate industry-wide processes with our competitors nor share any information with competitors that may influence market dynamics or pricing strategies.

5.4 CONFLICT OF INTEREST

We must always behave and act in the best interest of Executive Healthcare Solutions and avoid any conflict of interest that may touch on our personal ambitions, family, political, tribal and financial interests leading to conflicts with Executive Healthcare Solutions culture, strategy and way of business.

If an employee's personal interests conflict, either directly or indirectly, with those of the company or its clients, we must speak with their immediate Line Supervisors and/or Managers and stand back from any related decision-making process.

5.5 BRIBERY & FINANCIAL CRIMES

Bribes are intended to influence or sway someone to act improperly.

We must never offer, promise, imply or give bribes in connection with Executive Healthcare Solutions business and we must also never ask for, or accept bribes. This applies to us on a global stage, regardless of local ways of working. It is extremely important to ensure that we do not break this rule while dealing with government, public officials or entities in the private sector.

We also have a ZERO tolerance to any form of financial crime.

In this respect, Employees shall not;

5.5.1 Solicit or accept any advantage as an inducement or reward for doing or intending to commit any act in relation to the Company's affairs or business.

5.5.2 Solicit or accept from an actual or perspective customer or supplier any compensation, advance loans (except from established financial institutions on the same basis as other customers), gifts, entertainment or other favors that are more than token value or that the employee would not normally be able to reciprocate under normal expense account procedures. Any gifts received shall be of nominal value which Nominal value is anything below USD 100.

5.5.3 Under no circumstances should a gift or entertainment be accepted that would influence the employee's judgment.

5.5.4 All Employees will be required to declare all monetary and non- monetary gifts given to them in their official capacity above the set nominal values.

5.5.5 Show favors or disfavors to any person in relation to the Company's affairs or business, including procurement, contracting and outsourcing.

5.5.6 Offer any advantage to anyone as an inducement or reward.

5.5.7 The Company will not tolerate any form of tax evasion or the facilitation of it, money laundering, improper payments, bribes and/or corrupt financial practices.

5.6 CONFIDENTIALITY & INFORMATION SECURITY

The Company is committed to upholding company data, employee information, client confidentiality and protecting client information, to prevent disclosure of these confidential Company information.

Client-related information must be handled and stored in a way that prevents unauthorized access, use, modification or destruction.

Employees must maintain the confidentiality of any information entrusted to them by Executive Healthcare Solutions and clients, except when disclosure is authorized by clients themselves or required by applicable laws, rules or regulations. Even internally, client information shall be shared with appropriate discretion and only on a need-to-know basis.

Confidentiality principles also apply to Company's internal information: Employees shall not disclose to any person any information as to the practice, dealings and affairs of the Company, or to divulge any information relating to the affairs of its clients, except in circumstances in accordance with law, practice and necessary or appropriate to divulge such information.

Confidential information such as pricing strategies, customer & financial data, business plans must not be disclosed outside of Executive Healthcare Solutions.

6. PROTECTION AND PROPER USE OF THE COMPANY'S ASSETS

Employees shall not take improper advantage of the Company's assets and proprietary information made available to them in the frame of their professional activities. Employees are also expected to handle assets owned by or entrusted to the Company with care and to take all reasonable measures to ensure their protection against loss, theft, damage or misuse. Any suspected incident of fraud or theft should be reported for investigation immediately.

The obligation to protect Company assets includes the Company's proprietary information, stock, equipment, cash in addition to intangible items like computer systems or programs, intellectual property, trade secrets, business and marketing plans, records and any non-public financial data or reports. Unauthorized use or distribution of this information is prohibited and may result in termination from employment and/or civil/criminal penalties.

Employees shall not abuse their employee benefits. This can refer to time off, insurance facilities, subscriptions or other company offers.

Executive Healthcare Solutions will not tolerate the use of company assets for personal gain.

7 DRUGS AND ALCOHOL

Employees shall not possess or use alcoholic drinks or be under the influence of illegal drugs or intoxicant in the Company's premises during working hours or at any time that the employee is required to be on duty. The Company will not tolerate attending work under the influence of an intoxicant and may initiate suitable disciplinary action including dismissal.

8 POLITICAL ACTIVITIES

Executive Healthcare Solutions does not involve itself in party politics and no employee should imply they represent Executive Healthcare Solutions in political matters.

Employees are also requested to refrain from discussing political ideologies during working hours that may be viewed as offensive or demeaning to the listener.

9 EXTERNAL COMMUNICATION

It is important that we have a unified communication strategy that is in line with Executive Healthcare Solutions vision and mission.

All corporate external communications are coordinated through the Chief Executive Officer's office or a person designated to do so. This includes social media activities to ensure consistency and accuracy before publishing.

10 DIVERSITY, INCLUSION, EQUITY & EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES

We are committed to fostering a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workplace where all employees feel valued, respected, and empowered to contribute their unique perspectives and talents. We recognize the importance of ensuring our employees and ways of working fully represent the communities in which we operate and the clients we serve.

We believe that embracing diversity in all its forms—including but not limited to race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, age, religion, disability, socioeconomic background, thought or any other characteristics protected by national or local legal requirements – helps to strengthen our organization culture, drives innovation, and enables us to better serve our clients and communities. Our commitment to diversity and inclusion is not merely aspirational but is embedded in our policies, practices, and everyday interactions.

We are dedicated to providing equal employment opportunities to all qualified individuals without discrimination. This commitment extends throughout all aspects of the employment relationship, including recruitment, hiring, placement, promotion, training, compensation, and advancement. We actively work to identify and eliminate barriers to equal opportunity, promote fair treatment, and create pathways for underrepresented Executive Healthcare Solutions to succeed within our organization. By cultivating an environment where equity is paramount, we strive to ensure that every member of our team has access to the resources, opportunities, and support needed to reach their full potential.

11 REPORTING AND ENFORCEMENT

Actions prohibited by this Code involving any director or employee must be reported to the reporting person's immediate line Supervisor/Manager or the Head of Human Resources.

The relevant immediate line Supervisor/Manager or the Head of Human Resources will promptly take all appropriate actions necessary to investigate and close the matter.

If they do not believe it appropriate or are not comfortable approaching their supervisors or Manager about their concerns, then they can report directly to the Company's Legal and Compliance Department.

All Directors and Employees are expected to cooperate in any internal investigation of misconduct.

The Company shall ensure prompt and consistent enforcement of violations of this Code.

12 WHISTLEBLOWER PROTECTION & CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

Our organization is committed to maintaining the highest standards of ethical conduct and transparency. We recognize that employees and stakeholders may occasionally witness or become aware of activities that violate laws, regulations, or organizational policies. To encourage the reporting of such concerns, we have established robust confidentiality protections for individuals who report suspected wrongdoing in good faith. All reports will be handled with the utmost discretion, and the identity of whistleblowers will be protected to the fullest extent possible under applicable law. Information will only be shared on a need-to-know basis with authorized people responsible for investigating and/or addressing the reported concerns.

We strictly prohibit retaliation against any individual who makes a report in good faith of suspected misconduct, participates in an investigation, or otherwise exercises their rights under this policy and any other company policy. Retaliation includes, but is not limited to, harassment, discrimination, creation of a hostile working environment, threats of demotion or termination, or any other adverse employment action taken because of protected whistleblowing activity. Any employee who engages in retaliatory conduct will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. We encourage anyone who believes they have experienced retaliation to report it immediately through our Human Resources Department or confidential reporting hotline which will be launched soon, and we will promptly investigate all such claims and take appropriate corrective action when warranted.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I have received, read, understand and will comply with the company's Code of Conduct & Ethics. Unless disclosed below, I have no knowledge of any violation or potential violation of this policy. I understand that a violation of the Code of Conduct & Ethics may result in disciplinary action, which may include termination.
